

The logo for ASID (Association of Significant Interiors Designers) features the letters 'ASID' in a large, white, serif font. The letters are set against a red, trapezoidal background that tapers to the right. The 'A' is tall and narrow, the 'S' is wide and curved, the 'I' is a simple vertical bar, and the 'D' is wide and rounded.

ASID is a community of people - designers, industry representatives, educators and students, committed to interior design.

ASID

A Brief History

Founded in 1975, the American Society of Interior Designers is the oldest, largest and leading professional organization for interior designers. While the Society celebrated its 40th anniversary this year, the rich, vibrant history of the organization goes back further--much further--to the founding of its predecessor organizations, the American Institute of Interior Designers (AID) and the National Society of Interior Designers (NSID). The History of ASID: 30 Years of Advancing the Interior Design Profession was published in 2005 to commemorate the Society's rich and vibrant history.

CA Peninsula Chapter

San Francisco Peninsula to Monterey Bay

The CA Peninsula Chapter, ASID covers the entire San Francisco Peninsula and includes approx 400 interior designer members from San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and Monterey counties. These are cutting-edge professionals who maintain the highest level of design standards. They are experts at satisfying their clients' diverse needs while effectively working under budgets and deadlines.

Our goal is to effectively promote the value of interior design to the general public, related professions and our members through education, community service and exposure, while supporting the advocacy of the right of interior designers to practice as professionals.

Our chapter makes this possible through fund-raising events, sponsorship and in-kind donations. All funds are used to engage a variety of professional programs and activities for all members, students, established professionals and our Industry Partners. We strives to engage our diverse audience.
